

Michel Walrave · Koen Ponnet
Ellen Vanderhoven · Jacques Haers
Barbara Segaert Editors

Youth 2.0: Social Media and Adolescence

Connecting, Sharing and Empowering

 Springer

Youth 2.0: Social Media and Adolescence

Michel Walrave • Koen Ponnet
Ellen Vanderhoven • Jacques Haers
Barbara Segaert
Editors

Youth 2.0: Social Media and Adolescence

Connecting, Sharing and Empowering

 Springer

Editors

Michel Walrave
University of Antwerp
Antwerp, Belgium

Koen Ponnet
University of Antwerp
Antwerp, Belgium

Ellen Vanderhoven
Department of Educational Studies &
iMinds-MICT
Ghent University
Gent, Belgium

Jacques Haers
KU Leuven
Leuven, Belgium

Barbara Segaeert
University Centre Saint-Ignatius Antwerp
Antwerp, Belgium

ISBN 978-3-319-27891-9 ISBN 978-3-319-27893-3 (eBook)
DOI 10.1007/978-3-319-27893-3

Library of Congress Control Number: 2016936661

© Springer International Publishing Switzerland 2016

This work is subject to copyright. All rights are reserved by the Publisher, whether the whole or part of the material is concerned, specifically the rights of translation, reprinting, reuse of illustrations, recitation, broadcasting, reproduction on microfilms or in any other physical way, and transmission or information storage and retrieval, electronic adaptation, computer software, or by similar or dissimilar methodology now known or hereafter developed.

The use of general descriptive names, registered names, trademarks, service marks, etc. in this publication does not imply, even in the absence of a specific statement, that such names are exempt from the relevant protective laws and regulations and therefore free for general use.

The publisher, the authors and the editors are safe to assume that the advice and information in this book are believed to be true and accurate at the date of publication. Neither the publisher nor the authors or the editors give a warranty, express or implied, with respect to the material contained herein or for any errors or omissions that may have been made.

Printed on acid-free paper

This Springer imprint is published by Springer Nature
The registered company is Springer International Publishing AG Switzerland

Contents

Part I Identity: Online Identity Construction and Expression

Who Do You Think You Are? Examining the Off/Online Identities of Adolescents Using a Social Networking Site..... 3
Janette Hughes, Laura Morrison, and Stephanie Thompson

An ‘Open Source’ Networked Identity. On Young People’s Construction and Co-construction of Identity on Social Network Sites..... 21
Malene Charlotte Larsen

Profile Image: Ways of Self-(re-)presentation on the Facebook Social Network..... 41
Rocío Rueda-Ortiz and Diana Giraldo

Digital Divides in the Era of Widespread Internet Access: Migrant Youth Negotiating Hierarchies in Digital Culture 61
Koen Leurs

Agentive Students Using Social Media – Spatial Positionings and Engagement in Space2cre8 79
Ola Erstad

Part II Privacy: Balancing Self-disclosure & Privacy Concerns

The Paradoxes of Online Privacy 103
Sabine Trepte

The Role of Informational Norms on Social Network Sites 117
Wouter Martinus Petrus Steijn

iDisclose: Applications of Privacy Management Theory to Children, Adolescents and Emerging Adults..... 139
Stephen Cory Robinson

Part III Risks & Empowerment: Supporting & Empowering Youth
Social Relations: Exploring How Youth Use Social Media to Communicate Signs and Symptoms of Depression and Suicidal Ideation	161
Jennifer L. Laffier
Compulsive Use of Social Networking Sites Among Secondary School Adolescents in Belgium.....	179
Jolien Vangeel, Rozane De Cock, Annabelle Klein, Pascal Minotte, Omar Rosas, and Gert-Jan Meerkerk
(Cyber)bullying Perpetration as an Impulsive, Angry Reaction Following (Cyber)bullying Victimisation?	193
Sara Pabian and Heidi Vandebosch
Changing Unsafe Behaviour on Social Network Sites. Collaborative Learning vs. Individual Reflection.....	211
Ellen Vanderhoven, Tammy Schellens, and Martin Valcke
Empowering Children Through Labelling in Social Networks: Illusion or Solution?.....	227
Ellen Wauters, Eva Lievens, and Peggy Valcke
Index.....	249

List of Figures

Who Do You Think You Are? Examining the Off/Online Identities of Adolescents Using a Social Networking Site

Fig. 1	Elyssa’s profile page on Ning	8
Fig. 2	Liam’s profile page on Ning	12

An ‘Open Source’ Networked Identity. On Young People’s Construction and Co-construction of Identity on Social Network Sites

Fig. 1	Profile texts composed by others rather than the users themselves, 2005 and 2008	36
--------	--	----

Profile Image: Ways of Self-(re-)presentation on the Facebook Social Network

Fig. 1	Image made by one of the participants in the study group	57
--------	--	----

Digital Divides in the Era of Widespread Internet Access: Migrant Youth Negotiating Hierarchies in Digital Culture

Fig. 1	The construction of exclusionary, normative digital spaces Google.nl search “Marokkanen”	68
Fig. 2	Moroccan-Dutch youth self-reporting their selfie ideals (Graph shows percentages, n=344).....	72

Agentive Students Using Social Media – Spatial Positionings and Engagement in Space2cre8

Fig. 1	Illustration made by Ahmed.....	90
--------	---------------------------------	----

(Cyber)bullying Perpetration as an Impulsive, Angry Reaction Following (Cyber)bullying Victimization?

Fig. 1 Standardised regression coefficients for the relationships between victimisation and perpetration, mediated by anger..... 201

Fig. 2 Interaction between impulsivity and anger with regard to cyberbullying perpetration..... 203

Fig. 3 Full model with standardised parameter estimates and their two-tailed p-value 203

Fig. 4 Standardised regression coefficients for the relationships between victimisation and perpetration, mediated by anger and impulsivity..... 204

Changing Unsafe Behaviour on Social Network Sites. Collaborative Learning vs. Individual Reflection

Fig. 1 Pre-test post-test design with three conditions..... 216

List of Tables

Profile Image: Ways of Self-(re-)presentation on the Facebook Social Network

Table 1	Types of entity	47
Table 2	Types of treatment.....	48
Table 3	Types of framing	49
Table 4	Configurations	49

Agentive Students Using Social Media – Spatial Positionings and Engagement in Space2cre8

Table 1	Overview of data collected and contexts.....	88
---------	--	----

The Role of Informational Norms on Social Network Sites

Table 1	Mean descriptive of responses to norm items	126
Table 2	Comparison of norm adherence in the profile context between age groups	127
Table 3	Fit parameters of stepwise linear regression models.....	129
Table 4	Predictors of sharing information on SNS profile.....	130
Table 5	Critical statistical information and effect sizes for the repeated measure ANOVA performed on the effect of context for the means reported in Table 1	134
Table 6	Comparison of norm adherence in the public context between age groups	134
Table 7	Comparison of norm adherence in the private context between age groups	135

Social Relations: Exploring How Youth Use Social Media to Communicate Signs and Symptoms of Depression and Suicidal Ideation

Table 1	Suicide checklist: Signs and symptoms identified from literature review.....	167
Table 2	Sample of construct table used for evidence of each case	168

Compulsive Use of Social Networking Sites Among Secondary School Adolescents in Belgium

Table 1	Predictors of an average CSS score.....	187
Table 2	Correlation table.....	188

(Cyber)bullying Perpetration as an Impulsive, Angry Reaction Following (Cyber)bullying Victimisation?

Table 1	Pearson correlations and descriptive statistics for dependent and independent variables	199
Table 2	Unstandardised and standardised regression coefficients of direct and indirect effects of the model with anger as mediator.....	202
Table 3	Unstandardised and standardised regression coefficients of direct and indirect effects of the model with anger*impulsivity as mediator.....	205

Changing Unsafe Behaviour on Social Network Sites. Collaborative Learning vs. Individual Reflection

Table 1	Description of the different phases of the interventions in the three conditions of the study	217
Table 2	Dependent variables with an indication of reliability and an example item.....	218
Table 3	Results of the multilevel regression analysis on all three dependent variables	219
Table 4	The results of the qualitative analysis	221

About the Editors and Authors

Editors

Michel Walrave is a professor at the Department of Communication Studies of the University of Antwerp. He is responsible for the research group MIOS which conducts research on, amongst others, young people's uses of digital technologies. His research is centered around online self-disclosure and privacy. He investigates adolescents' and adults' online disclosure of personal information to companies and in interpersonal communication.

Koen Ponnet is an assistant professor and researcher at the University of Antwerp and the Higher Institute for Family Sciences (Odisee). His main research interests are the determinants of risk and problem behaviours of adolescents and adults, both off-line and on-line. In his research, he pays attention to the situation of vulnerable groups, like those who are at risk of poverty.

Ellen Vanderhoven obtained a PhD in Educational Sciences at Ghent University and currently works as a senior researcher at iMinds-MICT, a research group at the Department of Communication Studies at Ghent University. She specialises in research concerning both education about technology (media literacy) and technology for education (educational technology). In both domains, her expertise lies in the design of educational materials, including evaluation studies in authentic classroom settings.

Jacques Haers SJ studied mathematics (Catholic University of Leuven), philosophy (Catholic University of Leuven; Hochschule für Philosophie, München) and theology (Catholic University of Leuven; Oxford University). He is a professor of systematic theology and liberation theologies at the Faculty of Theology and Religious Studies (Catholic University of Leuven), where he also chairs the Centre for Liberation Theologies. He also heads the University Parish at the Catholic University of Leuven.

Barbara Segaert holds a master diploma in Oriental Studies, Islamic Studies and Arab Philology (Catholic University of Leuven, Belgium) and a master in the Social Sciences (Open University, UK). Since 2002, she is the scientific coordinator at the University Centre Saint Ignatius Antwerp where she develops academic programmes on various topics of relevance to contemporary society.

Contributors

Ola Erstad is a professor at the Institute for Educational Research, University of Oslo, Norway. He has been working both within the fields of media and educational research. He has published on the issues of technology and education, especially on “media literacy” and “digital competence”. He is leader of a research group at the Faculty of Education, Oslo, called “TransActionslearning, knowing and identity in the information society”. Recently, his research interests are directed towards the everyday practices of using different an media, the interrelationship between formal and informal ways of learning and media education in schools.

Janette Hughes is an associate professor and assistant dean of research at the University of Ontario Institute of Technology. Her research focuses on critical digital literacies and investigates the pedagogical affordances and constraints of digital technologies in educational contexts. Dr. Hughes is the recent recipient of the Ministry of Ontario Research and Innovation’s Early Researcher Award and of UOIT’s Excellence in Research Award as an Early Stage Researcher.

Jennifer L. Laffier is a senior lecturer in the Faculty of Education at the University of Ontario Institute of Technology. She teaches in the field of psychology, child development and mental health. Jennifer is also a counselling psychologist and specialises working with youth and children suffering from mental health issues. Currently, she is developing suicide awareness and mental health training programmes for youth.

Malene Charlotte Larsen is an associate professor at Aalborg University (AAU), Department of Communication, where she is doing research on young people’s use of social media. She holds a PhD in Media Communication from Aalborg University. Her research aims at understanding how online social networking is integrated as part of everyday life and how everyday life is represented, mediated and acted out in the digital space. She combines a wide range of data material such as online and multi-sided ethnography, open-ended questionnaires and scene and actions surveys. She is a public speaker and commentator in Denmark on digital youth culture and online social networking.

Koen Leurs is Assistant Professor in Gender and Postcolonial studies at the Graduate Gender Program, Department of Media and Culture Studies at Utrecht University, the Netherlands. He obtained his PhD in 2012. He is a feminist internet researcher who has published widely on digital identities, migration, gender, race, diaspora and youth culture using creative, participatory and digital methods. He is the co-editor of journal special issues on “Digital Crossings in Europe” in Crossings. Journal of Migration and Culture (2014) and “Forced migration and digital connectivity in(to) Europe” in Social Media + Society (forthcoming 2017), and he published a monograph titled Digital Passages: Migrant Youth 2.0. Diaspora, Gender and Youth Cultural Intersections (Amsterdam University Press, 2015).

Rocío Rueda-Ortiz holds a PhD in Education at the University of the Balearic Islands in Spain, a master in ICT applied to education and a bachelor diploma in Psychology and Pedagogy, both obtained at the National Pedagogic University, Bogotá, Colombia. Currently, she is a professor in the Inter-institutional Education Doctoral Programme at the same university. Her work in research and teaching can be grouped in three key areas: cyberculture studies, use of ICT in schools and social appropriation of ICT for cultural and political purposes. She has published articles both nationally and internationally in these fields of study.

Sara Pabian is a doctoral researcher at the University of Antwerp, research group MIOS (Media & ICT in Organisations & Society). Her research concerns developmental issues in cyberbullying among adolescents.

Stephen Cory Robinson is a PhD student in the Department of Journalism and Technical Communication at Colorado State University. Cory previously completed a master in Communication and has professional experience in advertising and strategic communication. His research focuses on cultural differences in online disclosure and incentives required for disclosure.

Wouter Martinus Petrus Steijn is a PhD candidate at the Tilburg Institute for Law, Technology and Society at Tilburg University. His research investigates individuals’ behaviour on social network sites and their privacy attitudes and conceptions. A special point of interest is age related differences.

Sabine Trepte is a professor for media psychology at the University of Hohenheim. Sabine Trepte’s research and teaching interests include media psychology, methodology and media effects’ studies. Specifically, her research focuses on online self-disclosure and privacy from a psychological perspective and on knowledge acquisition with media. She holds a master in psychology and a PhD in communication. She won several prizes such as the ICA dissertation award and ICA best paper awards and serves on the editorial boards of Media Psychology, Journal of Computer-Mediated Communication and the Journal of Media Psychology.

Ellen Vanderhoven is a senior researcher at iMinds-MICT at the Department of Communication Studies at Ghent University. She successfully defended her PhD at the Department of Educational Studies at Ghent University in 2014, which focused on privacy and security in online social networks. Using a design-based research approach, she developed, implemented and evaluated educational materials to raise awareness about risks on social network sites and to decrease unsafe behaviour. This research fitted in the SPION-project (Security and Privacy in Online Social Networks).

Jolien Vangeel is a PhD student at the Department of Communication Sciences at KU Leuven. She was involved as a scientific researcher in the CLICK project which focused on the compulsive use of computer and Internet in Belgium.

Ellen Wauters is a legal researcher at the Interdisciplinary Centre for Law & ICT (ICRI KU Leuven). She studied political sciences at the KU Leuven and graduated in 2002. She obtained her law degree as a working student at the Vrije Universiteit in Brussel in 2010. She worked as a contracts and licensing administrator at Sony Music and as a legal advisor for Sanoma Media before joining ICRI in February 2012. In the framework of the EMSOC project (user empowerment in a social media culture), she will be investigating the legal challenges of social media and more in particular whether social media can be regulated in a more user-oriented environment, focusing on two policy goals: media pluralism and diversity and the protection of minors.

Co-Authors

Rozane De Cock (PhD in Social Sciences 2007) is a professor at the KU Leuven (Belgium) and member of the Institute for Media Studies (KU Leuven) and the Brussels Centre for Journalism Studies (KU Leuven HU Brussel). Her research focuses on problematic Internet use among adults and youngsters, news consumption and the interdisciplinary field of journalism, justice and law (crime reporting). She teaches courses such as Media Innovation and Research; Qualitative Methods of Communication Research; News and News Effects.

Diana Giraldo is a PhD student in Communication and Information Sciences at the University of Lyon II, France. Her academic background includes an undergraduate degree in Communication and Journalism and a master degree in Philosophy of Language. She has worked in several research projects on the uses of ICT and media at the University of Valle, Cali, Colombia, where she has also been a lecturer.

Annabelle Klein is a director of GRICI (the Interdisciplinary Research group “Communication and Internet”) and professor of communication sciences at the “Facultés universitaires Notre-Dame de la Paix” in Namur. She is author of A galaxie des rumeurs (EVO, 1996) and Les pages personnelles comme nouvelles figures