

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
HILARY BROWN AND GILLIAN DOW
Introduction	I
MARIANNA D'EZIO
Literary and Cultural Intersections between British and Italian Women Writers and Salonnières during the Eighteenth Century	11
EVE-MARIE LAMPRON
From Venice to Paris: Fame, Gender and National Sensibilities in Late Eighteenth- and Early Nineteenth-Century Female Literary Networks	31
MARJANNE E. GOOZÉ
Mimicry and Influence: The 'French' Connection and the Berlin Jewish Salon	49
NICOLE POHL
European Networks: Dorothea von Kurland's Salons	73
LAURA KIRKLEY
Translating Rousseauism: Transformations of Bernardin de Saint-Pierre's Paul et Virginie in the Works of Helen Maria Williams and Maria Edgeworth	93
SUZAN VAN DIJK
Sociability and Mentoring by Correspondence: George Sand and Contemporary Female Writers	119

ELISABETH JAY

British Women Writers and the Mid-Nineteenth-Century
Parisian Salon 145

KERSTIN WIEDEMANN

Intertextuality and Network Creation: References to George Sand in Novels by Mid-Nineteenth-Century German Women Writers 163

URSULA JUNG

The Reception of Germaine de Staël and George Sand among Female Novelists in Nineteenth-Century Spain 179

GESA STEDMAN

Passion and Talent, Fulfilment or Death? Germaine de Staël's Novel
Corinne Crosses the Channel 201

MÁIRE FEDELMA CROSS

Salons sans Frontières: Flora Tristan's Reader and Writer 217

ALISON E. MARTIN

Daughters of Science: Mathilde Ørsted, Leonora and Joanna Horner 239

DAPHNE M. HOOGENBOEZEM

Marvel, Feminism and Reason: Rewriting Marie-Catherine d'Aulnoy's
Fairy Tales for Dutch Children 259

Notes on Contributors 277

Index 281