

The Transatlantic World of Heinrich Melchior Mühlberg
in the Eighteenth Century

Edited by Hermann Wellenreuther,
Thomas Müller-Bahlke, A. Gregg Roeber

Verlag der Franckeschen Stiftungen Halle
Harrassowitz Verlag in Kommission

Content

Acknowledgments	VII
Heinrich Melchior Mühlenberg in Context	IX
THE FORMATIVE YEARS, 1711–1742
Hartmut Lehmann
The World According to the Christian People in Europe, 1711–1730	3
Manfred Jakobowski-Tiessen
Heinrich Melchior Mühlenberg and Pietism in the Electorate of Hanover, 1711–1742	17
Thomas Kaufmann
The Character of Joachim Oporin’s Theology	35
Udo Sträter
Gotthilf August Francke, the Son and the Heir: Approaching an Unknown Figure	65
Thomas Müller-Bahlke
The Significance of Großhennersdorf for Mühlenberg’s Formation	83
MOVING TO THE NEW WORLD
Hermann Wellenreuther
The World According to the Christian People in North America around 1740	99
Jeffrey Bach
The World According to Conrad Beissel and the Radical Survivors of the Wissahickon: Ephrata in the Making	125
Mark Häberlein
Lutherans and Reformed around 1740: Pastors and Congregations at the Time of Heinrich Melchior Mühlenberg’s Arrival in Pennsylvania	143
Craig D. Atwood
“The Hallensians are Pietists; aren’t you a Hallensian?” – Mühlenberg’s Conflict with the Moravians in America	159
THE AWAKENING OF CHRISTIANS
Frank Lambert
Pietas Hallensis and the American Great Awakening	199

Jan Stievermann

Halle Pietism and Its Perception of the American Great Awakening:
The Example of Johann Adam Steinmetz 213

Wolfgang Splitter

Mühlenberg the Politician in Pennsylvania, 1742–1775 247

Karl Krueger

Old World Comforts for New World Anxieties: Books, Libraries, the 1762 Constitution and Beyond 265

THE REVOLUTIONARY WORLD

A. Gregg Roeber

Lutheranism in the Atlantic World in the Age of Revolutions 295

Nancy L. Rhoden

Is God American or English: The English Clergy as Political Agents of Loyalism and Revolutionary Order 319

Lisa Minardi

Pastors & Patriots: The Mühlenberg Family and the War for American Independence 349

Mark Oldenburg

Into the Future: Heinrich Melchior Mühlenberg and the first American Lutheran Hymnal 1786/87 371

BEYOND REVOLUTION

Christopher Voigt-Goy

Laity and Pastoral Office: The European Lutheran Church in North America in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries 387

FAMILY MATTERS

Gerd Hillebrecht

Heinrich Melchior Mühlenberg, Ancestors and Roots in His Hometown Einbeck, Germany 403

APPENDIX

Contributors 427

Index of names 429

Index of places 441

Acknowledgments

The articles published in this collection were originally presented to an international symposium convened on the occasion of Heinrich Melchior Mühlenberg's 300th Birthday in 1711 from 24–27 August, 2011 at the Franckesche Stiftungen in Halle. This symposium was supported by a generous grant from the Fritz Thyssen Foundation for which we are very grateful. We are equally grateful to Kurt J.M. Pfund and Katarzyna Pfund who translated the contributions by Thomas Kaufmann, Udo Sträter and Thomas Müller-Bahlke. A number of institutions in Germany and in the United States kindly granted us permission to reproduce images in their possession – their generosity has been acknowledged in the proper place. The editors finally wish to express their deep appreciation to Metta Scholz and Anne Sturm, the two editors of the press, for their efforts in turning the papers into a fine volume.